

Banaras

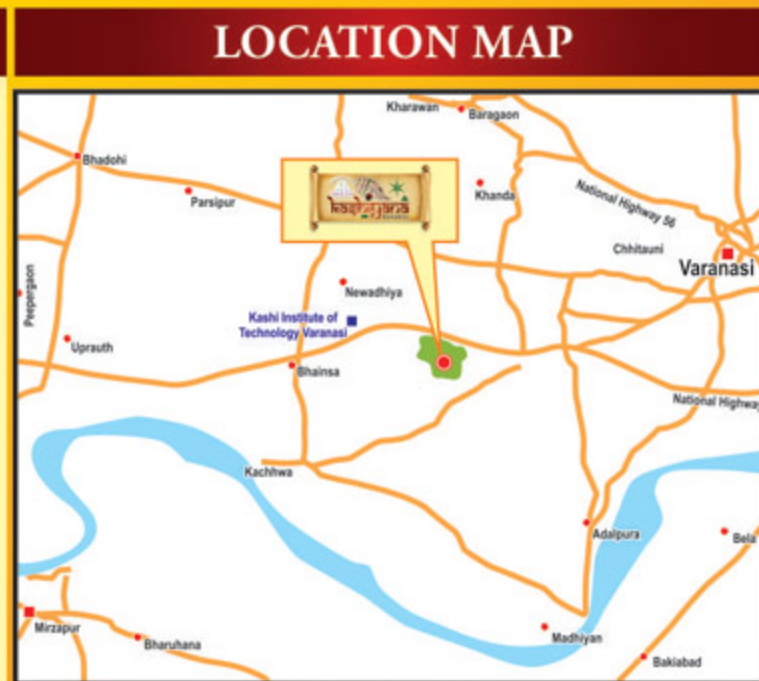

Situated on the banks of Holy Ganga, Banaras (Kashi) occupies a pride of place amongst the most ancient and culturally enriched cities of the world. Banaras has been a citadel of religion, culture, learning and knowledge since the time immemorial. This holy city, which is also known for the truthfulness of Raja Harishchandra, has been, in some or other way, the land of karma, meditation and salvation for a number of eminent religious seers, saints philosophers and scholars. Prominent among them are Jain Teerthankars, Mahatma Buddha, Acharya Shankar, Ramanand, Ramanujacharya, Ballabhacharya, Kabirdas, Tulsidas, Chaitanya Mahaprabhu, Sant Ravidas, Pandit Madan Mohan Malviya to name a few. Moreover, the city is also well-known for various forms of literature, art, classical music and dance. In these fields, legendary exponents like Acharya Ramchandra Shukla, Premchand, Prasad, Mahamahopadhyay Pandit Gopinath Kaviraj, Pandit Omkar Nath Thakur, Pandit Bade Ramdas Mishra, Pandit Sukhdeo Maharaj, Pandit Anokhe Lal Mishra, Nazeer Banarasi, Bharat Ratna Pandit Ravishankar, Bharat Ratna Ustad Bismillah Khan, Pandit Mahadev Mishra, Sitaradevi, Girijadevi, Pandit Kishan Maharaj, Pandit Gudai Maharaj, Gopikrishna, Pandit Chhannulal Mishra and Pandit Rajan Sajan Mishra have illumined not only Banaras, but also the nation. Banaras is also famed for its silken kamkhab (a type of very fine and precious cloth), Banarasi saaris, zari dress material, brassware and wooden toys. The feeling of liberality, harmony and tolerance towards all religions is the very essence of the city. In fact Banaras represents India in its miniature form, wherein live the people from different parts of the country. They differ from one another in their attire, food habits and speech, yet they represent the best example of co-existence and mutual understanding. Besides, the Ramlila of Banaras is also world famed.

The splendour of sunrise in Banaras is quite unique and worth experiencing. When the rising sun casts its shimmering shadow on the holy Ganga, it appears as the childlike sun is playing joyously with the Ganga's holy currents. When the golden rays of rising sun start lighting up Ganga's ghats and their staircases as well as the pinnacles of temples standing there, it seems as the banks of Ganga are being lit up with a spellbinding beacon. Renowned scholar Dr. Suniti Kumar Chatterjee writes, "the very glimpse of present Kashi reminds me of an offshore city and that city is Venice." Venice is also called the "Valley of Art". In the fore part of the tableau mounted on a tractor trailer, Bharatratna Ustad Bismillah Khan has been depicted. In the back part of the tableau, the ghats of Banaras, its famous temples as well as the scene of sunrise have been depicted, in which the devotees are taking holy dip in the Ganga, the people are offering pooja-archana, temple bells are ringing and the men and women performing Kathak on the trailer while reminding of different schools of Banaras.
