Locality Reviews

Siolim, North Goa

Previously a sleepy village. Siolim is now a bustling village with all conveniences at its doorstep. Its proximity to the quieter beaches in the north of Goa makes it a favourite of Russians and Europeans. In days gone by one could only access Morjim and the beaches across the river by ferry boat. Today, access to Morjim is via a bridge over the river. Siolim Tar has a jetty where you can buy fresh fish straight off the fishing boats. If one is so inclined you can sit on the wall along the river and enjoy the sunset with a plate of hot pakoras. In some ways I am sad at the many changes in what used to be a very rural and pastoral village scene... however, its development has brought many conveniences to the village and one does not need to go to Mapusa to stock up on supplies.

Pros:

- The beaches of Vagator, Morjim, Ashwem etc are close
- Many supermarkets and stores
- Fresh fish

Cons:

- Less quiet that it used to be in the good old days.

Siolim is one of the most targeted spots today in Goa by the tourist. Originally, a popular riverside tourist destination is now becoming a real estate haven.
