Description

With more than thirty years of cutting-edge architecture and development experience, County 107 is an extraordinary, opulent offering made by the nation's most ambitious and innovative brains and reserved for a select few. It is India's first housing project that has an "Elevated Walkway". An aerial walkway spanning the County landscape will run throughout the project, linking different areas and acting as a central nervous system. The walkway will traverse in and out across the County's tower lobbies and outdoor landscape, interspersed with expressly designated activity zones.
