The Amarprakash Group always wonders on the ability of the Children especially on their art. Even the creative imagination of artists stops at one point but not the children. Drawing a home with little hands and beautiful colors is an inseparable part of any childhood. No science can reason out why the children around the world draw homes, that is surrounded with lush green garden, a flowering lawn, a smiling sun and a river flowing alongside. It is extremely clear that we have been dreaming about building our own home at some point or other in our childhood. As the group grows up, this idea of our dream home develops a clear and a different shape. The home that we drew with our little hands becomes an important objective in our life eventually. And at Amarprakash, Chennai, the group believes in turning these dreams into certainty.
